2022 Lesson Policy

Welcome and thank you for deciding to take on your guitar journey with me!

Below you will find a list of my lesson policies.

Tuition-

Monthly tuition is due at the beginning of each month in full. If you cannot make it a certain week you must schedule this with me at the very beginning of the month and you won't be charged for that lesson. If it is later in the month and you've already paid then you may schedule a make up lesson.

Missed lessons-

Cancellations are considered a forfeit of payment. Make up lessons can be scheduled under certain circumstances. No shows, tardiness or last minute cancellations are not eligible for a make up.

Make-up lessons-

Make up lessons will be offered within 30 days of your missed lesson under certain circumstances such as being called into work, illness or bereavement. Make up lessons are your responsibility to schedule. If you are unable to make the time I have available for a make up then the payment is forfeit. Make up lessons do not carry over into the next months tuition.

Vacations-

We all go on vacation, if you have planned a vacation you have no need to pay for the time gone. Just let me know ahead of time and when that month arrives pay for the dates you will be in.

Please read through all of these and if you are comfortable with everything we can continue our journey into total guitar greatness.

Sincerely,

Steven Pontius
